More than just a placement.

ISA Internships are more than just a placement. It’s a Global Career-Building Experience.

FEATURED STUDENT: JOANNA CHORAZECZEWSKI

Joanna completed an internship in Shanghai, China focused on medical lab work and neurology. As a pre-medical student, she wanted to learn about similarities and differences of science and medicine abroad. Joanna split her internship time between the Shanghai Institute Pasteur and St. Michael Hospital. While at the Institute, she learned about the various lab techniques used in molecular biology. She also interned at a hospital in the neurology department with doctors, nurses, and physical therapists. She even got to scrub in to a few procedures. Joanna credits her internship with giving her a multitude of skills in the Mandarin culture, language, and traditions, as well as lab techniques and more about Western and Chinese traditional medicine.

“ My future as a scientist and as a doctor was benefited greatly by my experience abroad in China. The knowledge that I gained abroad also helped me diversify myself and have a greater appreciation for cultures different from my own.

Why Intern Abroad?

PREPARING FOR YOUR FUTURE CAREER

As a college student or recent graduate, it is important to find ways to add value as a future employee. Participating in an international internship experience is one way students can take a big step in differentiating themselves from other college graduates. Fewer students venture abroad for Global Career-Building Experiences. Interning abroad will not only allow students to explore potential career paths, but it will also provide students the opportunity to gain valuable skills in unique ways.

HARD–VS–SOFT SKILLS

Tangible and technical skills, like knowing certain software, mathematics or typing, are known as hard skills. These are often the easiest to recognize and talk about.

Soft skills are personal characteristics that enhance the way a person conducts their job and handles working relationships. Soft skills also fall into a very important category of transferable skills. Transferable skills are skills that are commonly utilized across many fields and positions. Employers value these types of skills, because they are harder to teach than hard skills.

5 KEY SKILLS ASSOCIATED WITH INTERNING ABROAD

The good news is that many of the skills associated with interning abroad tend be soft and transferable. The five skills listed below are often mentioned as the most desirable by employers and are examples of skills participants can hone while abroad:

- Communication – the verbal or written sharing of information to others
- Problem Solving – the thought process of coming up with solutions to issues
- Adaptability – the ability to adapt to new and changing environments or situations
- Planning/Organizational Skills – the ability to complete or plan a project or task in an efficient and planned manner
- Initiative – the ability to take charge or action without prompting

“They say outside of your comfort zone is where you grow the most. Before my internship, the furthest I lived from home was a four hour drive to Athens, OH and I had never been on a plane. My internship proved I was capable of becoming my own person in the real world. Yes, I learned a lot about the sports industry, but more importantly, I learned about being independent, worldly, open and understanding of different cultures and ways of thinking.”

– B. Noyes, Basketball Australia 2004
The ISA Difference

A FOCUS ON YOU AS AN INDIVIDUAL

Our focus is to provide programs and services with individual goals in mind, so that students can get more out of their experience.

MORE THAN 25 YEARS OF EXPERIENCE

We’ve been around since 1987, and have become a trusted partner to hundreds of U.S. and Canadian universities. We work hard to provide a wide variety of quality programs, strong on-site support and personalized attention.

THE DISCOVERY DIFFERENCE

The Discovery Difference is the framework our team uses to enhance student experiences abroad. We provide students personalized program recommendations based on their goals and interests. Then, throughout the pre-departure process, our Program Managers and Site Specialists will give students individualized attention to ensure that all questions are answered and they are well prepared for their experience. Once abroad, our in-country staff will lead a multi-day Bridging Cultures Orientation Program to ease the transition and accelerate exposure to the host country. Throughout the program, our on-site staff will plan additional excursions and suggest individual activities to engage students in the 5 areas of discovery: personal, academic, cultural, social and professional.

STAFF WHO UNDERSTAND YOU

Our team, both in the U.S. and abroad, are passionate about study abroad. Our Program Managers and Site Specialists have all been abroad and understand firsthand what students are going through as they prepare for an international experience. Once in country, on-site staff provide guidance and insight to the local culture and are available 24/7.

Students will be supported by a team of engaged on-site coordinators who can assist them with finding the right balance of study and activities to make their internship abroad experience one-of-a-kind.

“I just wanted to say thank you for everything that you did for me and let you know that my internship was the reason my current job hired me. I love what I am doing now and am extremely happy that I did the internship... because it opened my eyes to what I truly want to do with the rest of my life.”

J. Williams
James Madison University
ISA Internships are available in every field of study (see pages 16–33 for sample placements). All of our internship programs include the same high-quality placements and inclusions; however, there are different program models in order to suit all applicants. The following options are available in all locations world-wide and all internships are unpaid.

6-Week Internships
- There are four pre-set intakes each year (see pages 34-35 for dates).
- Internships include a multi-day on-site Bridging Cultures Orientation Program (see page 10).
- Students may add on 4 U.S. credits through Chapman University (see opposite page).
- Students may be able to receive academic credit for their internship abroad (see opposite page).

6-week programs are not available in Hong Kong.

10-Week Internships
- There are four pre-set intakes each year (see pages 34-35 for dates).
- Internships include a multi-day on-site Bridging Cultures Orientation Program (see page 10).
- Students may add on 6 U.S. credits through Chapman University (see opposite page).
- Students may be able to receive academic credit for their internship abroad (see opposite page).

Custom Date Internships
Custom Date Internship placements are available for interns who are unable to participate in one of our pre-set 6 or 10-week placements for either one of the following reasons:
- You cannot attend the program during the pre-set dates.
- You need an internship duration other than 6 or 10 weeks.
Participants have the option to add an academic credit component to the 6 or 10-week internship programs (academic credit is not available for Custom Date Internships). Academic credit is issued by our school of record, Chapman University, which has a long history of commitment to international education.

If participants select this option, in addition to the hours that they will work at the internship site, they will have standard written assignments to complete. Credit is issued as a letter grade. These assignments will help guide participants throughout their internship experience by helping to establish realistic expectations, and set and track goals so that they are maximizing their experience. The internship site supervisor will also be required to submit an evaluation so that we can track the participant’s performance.

ABOUT CHAPMAN UNIVERSITY
Chapman University is an established university located in Orange, California, with a strong mission in developing global citizens. Chapman University is accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, Accrediting Commission for Senior Colleges and Universities. Visit chapman.edu for more information.

ELIGIBILITY
In order to qualify for the Academic Credit Option, participants must meet the following criteria:

- All applicants must either be full-time students who have completed at least 45 credit hours, or have recently graduated from a bachelor degree program at a U.S. or Canadian university.
- All students will need to confirm credit transfer with their home institution before applying.
- A minimum GPA of 2.5 is required to participate; however, some placements may have more stringent eligibility requirements.

EARNING CREDIT FOR CUSTOM DATE INTERNSHIPS
Custom date internship placements do not carry credit from Chapman University; however, participants can often arrange credit with their home university. Participants will want to speak with their academic advisors, professors or department heads about the processes and assessments they will require.

CONTACT HOURS
Students who enroll in a 6-week internship can earn 4 U.S. credits. Students who enroll in a 10-week internship can earn 6 U.S. credits.
What’s Included?

EVERYTHING YOU WOULD EXPECT

• Internship placement
• Housing
• Health insurance
• 24/7 pre-departure services
• Airline ticket advice and access to booking options
• Cell phone or SIM card
• High-quality professional development
• Personalized program based on individual goals
• Excursions and adventures
• Academic credit & academic supervisor
• 24/7 on-site support

...AND MORE!

• Resume and Cover Letter Advising
  In order to ensure a successful application to one of our placements, we will provide participants with advice on writing a resume and cover letter. Students have found this service invaluable as they begin or continue with their job search.

• Online Career-Counseling Resources
  All interns will have access to online resources for career development, such as pre- and post-experience career development webinars and videos.

• Language Lessons in Non English-Speaking Destinations
  All our internship opportunities, including those in China, Spain and Chile, offer English-speaking placements. No prior foreign language experience is needed for many of our internships. However, to expand cultural discovery, we give interns in China, Spain and Chile the option of purchasing language lessons. Learning a foreign language is a great global skill to enhance your resume. There are various packages in each destination and language lessons are an additional expense.

• Immersion in Your Workplace & Community
  An international internship can provide the best cultural immersion opportunity possible. Students will be fully immersed into the daily life of professionals. This program requires independence but offers a tremendous opportunity to truly get to know another culture. With a standard work schedule of 4 days-per-week in some locations, there will also be ample opportunities to travel around the country or get involved with the community. There are various opportunities to become immersed in the culture by joining local clubs or sporting groups or participating in locally-arranged cultural excursions in the area. It is important for participants to find the right combination of professional, cultural and leisure activities to take full advantage of the opportunities for international learning and cultural immersion. Our on-site Resident Directors will provide you with a calendar of Discovery Activities so that you can get the most out of your experience.

Customized Placements to Fit Your Goals

Internships expose participants to a wide variety of tasks and opportunities in order to help them clarify their future career.

Because each person is unique, we do not have a limited number of pre-set placements, but instead offer a customized placement model. Students provide a statement of what type of experience they would like to gain, and we find a placement that fits their goals.

The following pages provide samples of past internship sites. One of which may be exactly what you are looking for, but don’t despair if none of these fit your needs. We will find a placement that does!
Guaranteed Housing

Housing for the Internship Program is included in the program fee and varies by destination. Regardless of the location, ISA Internships puts an emphasis on safe and clean accommodation. Due to the short term nature of the program, housing types and amenities can vary and is typically assigned to participants.

ISA Internships has concentrated on keeping the cost for the Internship Program at a reasonable rate to our students. Participants can be assigned to accommodation in a homestay, shared on-campus accommodation, student apartments or hostels. Participants should be open to all types of accommodation, as all housing placements are based on availability, program length, cost, number of participants and proximity to the internship site. Whatever the arrangement, we are certain that participants will feel safe, secure and most of all, happy with their program accommodation. Participants may be housed in different accommodation based on the location of their internship placement and commute times.

Specific details about the program accommodation and public transportation routes will be provided approximately 3-4 weeks prior to departure and can be found in the participant’s online account. Please note that it is typically not an option to not utilize the arranged program accommodation, as housing is included in the program fee.

APARTMENTS
We utilize students type apartments in all of our locations. These may be a studio or multi-share apartments with single or twin share bedrooms. Internship program in Asia only utilize apartment type accommodation.

HOMESTAY
Students in Chile and Spain have the option of staying with a local family or individual. Homestays can also be utilized in other destinations as well due to availability of other types of accommodation. Homestays can be a great way to learn the local language and culture and typically include some meals.

ON-CAMPUS ACCOMMODATION
University or independently owned accommodation that is located on a university campus. Participants would typically have a single dorm room.

YOUTH HOSTEL
Many youth hostel facilities rent single bedroom accommodation with shared kitchen facilities. These types of facilities may be utilized in Australia and New Zealand.

Sample photos of student accommodation. Accommodation options vary based on location.
Our in-country resident staff suggests recommended self-led activities for students throughout the time abroad. Activities are optional and designed to explore the five key areas of discovery: academic, social, personal, cultural, and professional. These are not just visits to tourist attractions. For instance, these activities include things like networking opportunities, local festivals, gallery openings, and other similar events that you can’t find in a travel book but that will truly enhance your experience.

SAMPLE SELF-LED DISCOVERY ACTIVITIES

The Great Sydney Race Scavenger Hunt
Sydney, Australia
In order to explore local landmarks and to mingle with locals, interns are challenged to a scavenger hunt which takes them all over the city.

Career Exposition
Wellington, New Zealand
Interns in Wellington attend the main graduate recruitment fair for a local university and network with local businesses to see the possibilities that await them when they graduate.

Professional Networking
Hong Kong, Shanghai, China and Singapore
Interns attend a professional networking event or a dinner with a guest speaker, such as an industry leader, successful entrepreneur, or business manager. Interns are able to get an inside perspective about business in China and Hong Kong, as well as Asia as a whole.

ON-GOING ACTIVITIES

Our in-country staff will provide students with a robust calendar of events. Students have the option to take part in these events during their free time. Staff-led and independent activities will reflect the five dimensions of the Discovery Compass. Students’ own exploration of the culture, the academics, the people, and themselves is what will truly make their experience unique. ISA’s in-country staff will also provide students with advice and recommendations for their continued, self-directed pursuit of Discovery.
Meet the Team

Our U.S.-based Program Managers will assist students through every step of the application and enrollment process prior to departure. Our staff knows what it takes to successfully prepare students for an internship abroad. We have also forged strong partnerships with organizations abroad to support students on-site and provide important health and safety measures in-country during their internship abroad.

Why Intern In...?

London, England

- Placements can either be with large multi-national companies where participants will focus on a specific project, or within a small business where they will gain exposure to all aspects of the organization.
- Internships are in English, so there is no language barrier between co-workers.
- With historical landmarks, hundreds of festivals, thriving markets, world-class theaters, some of the world’s best museums, fantastic restaurants and plenty of live music, participants are never short of something to do – and the transportation is superb, making the entire city extremely accessible without the need for a car.

Valencia, Spain

- Placements are typically in a small business where participants will gain exposure to all aspects of the organization.
- Most internships are in English, with some Spanish-speaking placements for students with a high level of proficiency.
- Valencia is the third largest city in Spain, and offers a vibrant culture and plenty of things to do.

Santiago, Chile

- Placements are typically in a small business where participants will gain exposure to all aspects of the organization.
- Internships are available in English or Spanish.
- Chile is South America’s safest and most thriving country.

Singapore

- Placements are typically with larger organizations, where participants will have a more structured set of duties.
- Singapore is an international financial center.
- English is one of the official languages, so there is no language barrier between co-workers.
- Singapore is a culturally diverse country.
Shanghai, China

- It is easy to network with top executives of major corporations in Shanghai.
- Placements are typically in an entrepreneurial setting which allows participants to learn about starting a business.
- Shanghai offers the most potential for future employment in the same destination as a result of the internship.
- Internships are typically in English, but participants may pick up foreign language skills in their free time.

Hong Kong

- Placements are typically with larger organizations, where participants will have a more structured set of duties.
- Hong Kong is an international financial center.
- English is one of the official languages, so there is no language barrier between co-workers.

Australia

- Placements are typically with smaller companies where participants will gain exposure to all aspects of the organization.
- Internships are in English, so there is no language barrier between co-workers.
- Australia is a big country to explore; full of big and small cities, beaches, mountains, the Outback and more.

New Zealand

- Placements are typically with smaller companies where participants will gain exposure to all aspects of the organization.
- Internships are in English, so there is no language barrier between co-workers.
- New Zealand is the adventure capital of the world.

Now that you have decided to intern abroad with ISA...

Before you Apply:

ASK US YOUR QUESTIONS
Call (512) 480 8522 or email us at internships@studiesabroad.com. Available 7-7 CST, our staff can assist you, your parents and your advisors with any questions you have about our programs.

ASK QUESTIONS ABOUT YOUR SCHOOL’S POLICIES FOR COMPLETING AN INTERNSHIP
Your internship or academic advisor is the best person to speak with about the academic credit option, using your financial aid and scholarships to pay for the program, any special forms you need to supply your school or any specific processes you need to complete. You should also contact your study abroad office.

The Application and Placement:

APPLY
You will need to complete our application and submit the supporting materials, including a cover letter, resume, one letter of recommendation and a non-refundable application fee. The application fee is $400 for online applications (which will be applied to your total program fees).

COMMIT TO THE PROGRAM
Once your application is complete, one of our Program Managers will give you a call to discuss your goals for this program so that we can custom build an internship experience that meets your needs.

After Acceptance:

ACCEPT YOUR PLACEMENT
Once a specific internship site has agreed to host you, you will receive a formal internship offer with the details of your placement. You will need to sign and submit this offer with the next payment of $1,500 (which is applied to your program fees) to confirm your placement. If you cancel your program prior to accepting your formal offer, you will not receive a refund of your initial $400 payment. If you cancel after accepting an offer, additional cancellation penalties will apply.

FOLLOW YOUR TO-DO LIST
Upon acceptance, you will have a To Do List and Participant Guide easily accessible through your online account. You will simply click on the link and follow the instructions to complete the item. The remainder of the program fees will be due 45 days prior to departure.

Departure and Participation:

Once you arrive abroad, you will take part in the multi-day Bridging Cultures Program with other interns who will also be in the country during the same period (see page 10). This is a great chance to meet other interns, as well as learn valuable information through orientation sessions. You will create a network of friends to keep in touch with throughout your time abroad. Interns on Custom Date Internships do not participate in a Bridging Cultures Program, but will have an orientation in-country.

TIPS FOR A STANDOUT APPLICATION:
The actual internship is not the only learning process of the internship program. The initial step of preparing the applications also gives you exposure and experience in preparing professional-looking documents for future career opportunities.

HELPFUL HINTS:
• Watch out for spelling and grammatical errors! Be thoughtful with your essay questions.
• Do you have relevant education and/or experience for your desired internship?
• Be honest about your skill level.

RESUME:
Your resume is also a key element in the application process. It is important that you show your possible internship host what relevant education, interests and experience you have to support your desire to intern in the field that you have chosen. Be sure to indicate your major and minor study areas.

COVER LETTER:
Your cover letter is probably the most important document you will provide with your internship application. Your cover letter should not be geared toward a specific internship site or location, but rather should be general and focused on the specific field in which you are interested and on the various types of learning outcome you would like to achieve. Also, let the reader know why you want to intern abroad. We suggest that you keep your location options open to all destinations. Each of these amazing destinations offer high quality internship placements, fascinating cultural experiences and the change to learn relevant and transferable skills and knowledge.

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION:
Your letter of recommendation should be from professors, academic advisors, previous/current employers or a combination of the three. The most professional presentation is to have the letters typed on university or company letterhead.

MEREDITH BOLING

WHY DID YOU WANT TO INTERN ABROAD?

“I was an International Business Major in college and thought what better way to experience my major and apply all my school experience to real world situations.”

WHAT WAS IT THAT DREW YOU TO INTERN IN SHANGHAI?

“China is such a fascinating country, especially in business. It has made major developments in business and has become a focus of many companies’ marketing efforts. I wanted to be able to gain insight into the consumer behaviors of a country that is a target for many businesses.”

HOW HAS YOUR INTERNSHIP SHAPED YOUR CAREER GOALS?

“My internship abroad has been the single greatest learning experience for my current job. I was able to learn the foundation of managing marketing campaigns and project management while I was there. Having the internship abroad on my resume has also been a great conversation point during interviews.”

HOW HAS YOUR INTERNSHIP EXPERIENCED SHAPED YOU?

“Being in a culture so different of my own really pushed me to adapt to what was around me. Now I am able to adapt to my work environment as it changes. Which is especially important in client relations.”

“My internship [in Shanghai] has been the single greatest learning experience for my current job.”
